E. SESSION SUMMARY:

SG1A

The target [REDACTED] is a trawler, possibly a shrimper, which has two long booms extending backwards. These booms angle both upwards and outward from the center of the vessel. It has a white hull with faded red elsewhere; probably as a border along the deck level. The concept of "harbor boat" is also associated with this target.

This vessel acts as a "look-out" for the network. It "runs" interference and acts as a ploy or decoy. It rolls alot; it doesn't seem to handle waves too well. Excessive rolling from side to side. Objects appear to continually slip into the water.

The network is involved with heroin or hashish from Asia (a substance that begins with an "h" at any rate). It is hidden in wooden toy figures; animal figures. Frogs, dogs, mushrooms and dolls were perceived, albeit in a jumbled array.

I sense that the operation is close to occurring because of my picking up a serious concern with the weather and fog by individuals associated with this network. A transfer will occur at sea.

An emergency will be faked; used as a guise to distract from the operation occurring. Railroad tank cars will be also be involved in some way.

SG1B

Other concepts, attributes and/or features associated with [REDACTED] are:

- clear water; a holding tank; flooding; and a pool of water which appears "suspended".
- black or dark green blocks or crates; black and metallic; raised; and rippled.
- shaft or hold area.
- crumpled up photograph of a female.
- the concept of something being "halved".
- the concept of submerged.
- flat wooden railing and a star-shaped cutout area of a wall or panel.
- 65 pound packages.
- a dog's name.

Viewer's Note: I perceived my throat tightening and having a chemical taste in my mouth during this session. This has been a definitive indicator to me in past operations that illegal drugs are involved with the target.
